

Project Blue World Foundation is Powering Projects, Unveils new Partnership with Project Management Institute Manitoba Projects for Social Good.

May 10, 2024

Project Blue World Foundation global update: Roadmap to a Blue World Elevate Inspire Develop Global Happiness

Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada – May 10, 2024 - Project Blue World Foundation charitable support services company dedicated to fostering global happiness and sustainable development, is excited to announce new partnership enabling the launch of several charitable projects aimed at driving positive social change.

Since its inception in 2019, Project Blue World Foundation has been at the forefront of promoting happiness, success for citizens, communities, cities, and countries across the globe. With a focus on creating solutions for people to achieve quality of life, through initiatives that alleviate poverty, increase education and community development, the company is proud to introduce new partnership with Project Management Institute Manitoba's Projects for Social Good a series of initiatives aimed at addressing critical social and environmental issues.

Through its expanded network of initiatives, Project Blue World Foundation is committed to making a meaningful impact on communities worldwide.

"Project Blue World Foundation is thrilled to unveil our partnership with Project Management Institute Manitoba. The Projects for Social Good initiative is aimed at driving positive change in communities around Manitoba and the world," says Co-founders Todd and Lori Payne. "Through this new partnership and ongoing projects, we aim to create lasting impact and improve the lives of individuals, families, and communities."

Projects for Social Good is a local program initiated by the Project Management Institute's PMI 4.0 strategy and PMI's Education Foundation (PMIEF), aiming to harness the chapter's expertise in project management to create a positive social and environmental impact in Manitoba's communities. Through a matchmaking service, PMI Manitoba connects social good initiatives with project professional volunteers, providing opportunities for both developing and experienced project professionals to contribute their skills while gaining real-life project experience. Non-profit and charitable organizations benefit from access to a pool of volunteers, with each project supported by a developing project professional and a senior experienced mentor.

Under the leadership of Gaetan Fiola, Project Blue World's Chief Executive Officer, the company has forged impactful partnerships to drive projects in key areas such as agriculture, education, energy, housing, and sports. By leveraging its network of agents and partners spanning 18 countries, Project Blue World is poised to make a meaningful difference in the lives of people worldwide.

"Join us as we embark on these charitable projects aimed at making a positive impact on society," urges Gaetan Fiola. "Together, with our partners, we can create a better world for future generations."

Project Blue World Foundation invites individuals, businesses, and communities to learn more about the Projects for Social Good and get involved in its initiatives. For more information, visit Projects for Social Good at Project Blue World Foundation. Follow Project Blue World Foundation on Facebook and connect on LinkedIn.